

RE: Spring 2021 Start Date for Graduate Programs
Date: October 22, 2020

Dear USC Marshall Community,

To align with the university schedule, as outlined in Provost Zukoski's memo on October 14, 2020, regarding "Important Updates for Fall and Spring Semesters," spring electives for the Marshall graduate programs will also begin on January 15 with classes ending on April 30 and exams concluding on May 12.

While there will be no spring recess, Marshall is designating Tuesday February 16th (after President's day long weekend) as Marshall's "no class/Wellness" day. We are expecting that additional Wellness days are likely to be announced by the University soon.

Stay healthy and resilient.
